General.

National Republican Convention to open in Chicago today; few contests are expected with the exception of the Vice-Presidential nomination; looks as though little change in the platform. Several States have been selected by the various State delegations, and there is practically no doubt that the declaration for protection will be emphatic and that there will be but little comfort for the tariff revisionists. A pledge to make changes in schedules when such changes are necessary is the only concession that will be made by the "stand-patters." Possibly the warding-off may be changed and those who have been talking revision will secure the use of the word "revision" to press the idea. It is to be conveyed, but even this is considered doubtful. The majority are against having anything like a general revision of the tariff suggested and will contend for the words "changes" or "tariff schedules" when "conditions make it necessary" is a simple way to cover all that is intended by the Republican party.

THEY OPEN UP FIGHT ON PARKER

Cooper Union Convention Held Last Night.

BRYAN AMONG THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS

Anti-Parker People Draft Platform, in Which New York Judge Is Charged.

THEY ALSO ATTACK HILL IN SAVAGE MANNER

Union Will Send Delegation to St. Louis to Utter Protest Before the Convention.
The Nebraskan Received a Rousing Reception.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 20.—Cooper Union was called to-night at the anti-Parker convention, called by some of those who do not concur in the Parker instructions given at the New York State Convention. William J. Bryan was the principal speaker, and when he appeared on the platform he was enthusiastically applauded. Before making his address he said he would not name his favorite candidate for President, but he made a savage attack on the "reorganizers," and vigorously opposed the nomination of Judge Parker, who was held up as the candidate of the corporations and not of the people.

Judge Samuel Seabury, of the City Court, who presided, spoke of Parker as the candidate of the "plutocracy." The platform adopted at the meeting opens by condemning the expansion policy of the Republican administration. The platform continues:
"Judge Parker is silent. Senator Hill speaks for him. We know Senator Hill's record. As Governor of the State of New York he blocked the secret ballot. As senator he opposed his party's position on the tariff and the income tax. The people of New York expressed their opinion of Senator Hill when he was beaten for the office of Governor in 1884 by 155,000 votes. Neither harmony, confidence nor success can now follow his discredited leadership."

The party should refuse to follow the leadership of such men as August Belmont, declares the resolution, adding that the Albany platform failed to make a single issue with Republican policies. The platform adopted to-night denounces protection of monopoly by tariffs, and concludes:
"It is resolved, That a committee of twenty-five, of which the chair shall be one, be appointed by the chair to present this protest to the St. Louis convention."

In the course of resolutions, this declaration is made as to a candidate: "The candidate of the Democratic party must be a man who has stated his principles and can be trusted to apply them with firmness and courage."

Bryan Receives Ovation.
When Mr. Bryan arose he was given an ovation. He said in part:
"I believe that the National Convention should not nominate the man whom your State convention has recommended. The great question this year is not the money question, but it is whether we are to have a plutocracy or a democracy. My own position has been and will be that I shall not attempt to decide upon the availability of Mr. Hearst or others. All I ask is that we have a man on whom there is not the taint of monopoly."

"Mr. Parker goes before the country on a cowardly straddling platform. The Democrats of this country are brave men. It required brave men to stand up for Democracy in 1896. I knew in that year men in every State who were threatened with bankruptcy for being Democrats."

How Does Parker Stand?
"What does the State platform stand for? It is stated it is organized to necessary duties. Whoever advocated an unnecessary duty?"
"Where does Parker stand on imperialism? We don't know. Where does he stand on the money question? Is he for gold? We don't know. Is he for silver?"

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

W. A. Fleet, a Student of the Academic Department of the University, a Winner.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., June 20.—The committee appointed to choose the holder of the Rhodes scholarship, assigned Virginia, from among the list of candidates who successfully passed the examinations held at the University of Virginia in April, met to-night at the institution and awarded the honor to Mr. William A. Fleet, a student in the Academic Department. Only two of the committee, Dr. James Morris Page, of the University, and Professor F. V. N. Painter, of Roanoke College, were present, the other member, Professor S. C. Mitchell, of Richmond College, being absent.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, June 20.—The nomination of Senator Charles W. Fairbanks for Vice-President was regarded as settled to-night, when New York decided to cast her seventy-eight votes for him. While it has seemed a foregone conclusion for some time that the Indiana senator would be Mr. Roosevelt's running mate, there have been efforts to bring out other candidates and start a stampede of delegates for some other man. These attempts failed almost in their inception, and it early became apparent that Fairbanks was the choice of most of the delegates. New York's action was more formal than that of other States, and practically settled all doubt, even among those who were opposed to the Indiana man.

Considerable criticism has been directed at Senator Fairbanks because of his failure to definitely declare his position. All that it has been possible to obtain from him was a statement that he did not consider the honor one which a man should seek or decline, and that if the party wanted him, and needed him, he would accept, although he was not a candidate, and would not follow the Indiana delegation to express itself in favor of his nomination. This attitude seemed to be circulated by the leaders, who saw no reason why the senator should not come squarely out with a formal statement.

Dealing in Futures Yesterday.
There was some dealing in futures in the vice-presidential game to-day. Senator Fairbanks' friends were of opinion that he expressed neither a desire for the nomination or a disinclination to accept the place, such action would be used against him four years hence if he should be a candidate for the presidency. By pursuing the course he has and accepting a party call they think he has obligated the party to him. Had he been an aspirant for the place, they argue that the obligation would be the other way. In trying to "smoke out" Senator Fairbanks, his friends have been active with the names of other men, wanted to make it plain that no obligation was created by naming Fairbanks for the place. While all this is very remote from the present situation, it is regarded as showing that the conditions surrounding the selection of Roosevelt for vice-president four years ago are still fresh in the minds of the Republican politicians. At the same time they do not agree that a precedent was created four years ago, or will be created by nominating Mr. Fairbanks at this convention.

Taft's Name Mentioned.
During the day, former Secretary Long advised the name of Secretary Taft and Massachusetts men went forth and discussed the suggestion with other delegates. Ohio received the propositions with the statement that it was unfair to Secretary Taft to bring him out at this time, and further, that Ohio had decided to support Fairbanks, who is a native of the State.

Complimentary ballots will be cast for the many favorite sons, although it is known that Indiana senator will be nominated. Colorado will vote for John H. Sprague; Illinois for J. E. Hilly; Mississippi for Cyrus K. Walbridge; Nebraska for John L. Webster, and Wisconsin for former Governor Edward Scofield. No doubt before the ballot is completed all these States will change and cast their votes for Senator Fairbanks, making the nomination unanimous.

The senator, who will not present his name, but it is expected that other States are ready to do so. Possibly the nomination will come from Alabama, the first State on the roll.

AS TO PLATFORM.

Several Changes Are Advocated, Among Them Revision of Tariff.
(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, ILL., June 20.—The men who are to examine the platform, which has been in the possession of Senator Lodge for several days, have been selected by the various State delegations, and there is practically no doubt that the declaration for protection will be emphatic and that there will be but little comfort for the tariff revisionists. A pledge to make changes in schedules when such changes are necessary is the only concession that will be made by the "stand-patters." Possibly the warding-off may be changed and those who have been talking revision will secure the use of the word "revision" to press the idea. Ninety-four Victims of Slocum Disaster Taken From the Water Yesterday.

LIST NUMBER, 725 DEAD

Coroner's Inquest Commenced Yesterday and President of Steamboat Co. Examined.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 20.—The list of those who perished on the General Slocum is growing at an alarming rate. Bodies came to the surface to-day off the shores of North Brother Island singly or in groups of two and three until at dusk ninety-three additional had been recovered. Every passing steamer seemed to churn up the water to such a degree that with its wash one or more bodies were swept in to the beach. Between the hours of three and six in the afternoon forty-five bodies, some of them badly mutilated, were taken ashore by the searching parties. This brings the total number of bodies recovered up to 725, and yet there are something like 300 unaccounted for. A number of those are Reported That Big Engagement Is Proceeding at Hai-Cheng.

HEAVY LOSS ON BOTH SIDES

Japs Preparing to Attack General Kuropatkin Before He Is Reinforced.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. PETERSBURG, June 20.—The general staff believes it probable that General Kuropatkin and Oku are meditating attack on General Kuropatkin before he is further reinforced. In order to do this they must act before the rainy season, which is imminent. The War Office points that since it was General Oku, and not General Nodsu, who fought Lieutenant-General Baron Stokelberg at Vafangow, and that since General Oku recently has been directing the siege operations against Port Arthur, the siege seems to have taken second place in the plans of the Japanese. There is a rumor in St. Petersburg to-night that a battle at Hai-Cheng is actually proceeding, and that there have been heavy losses on both sides. There is, however, no confirmation of this rumor.

It has developed that the Japanese at Vafangow had an accurate topographical map of the whole battlefield, and that their batteries were connected by telephone.

Russians Stop Advance of Japs.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. PETERSBURG, June 21.—Lieutenant-General Zilinsky, chief of staff to Vice-roy Alexieff, has sent the following telegram to the minister of war, under date of June 19th:
"According to information from Port Arthur, on June 18th, three Japanese battalions pushed forward across the Sialing mountains towards Lounantan. Two detachments of Captain Loubinsky's rifles and a company of frontier guards stopped their advance."
"The enemy's torpedo boats bombarded the semaphore station, but they retired."

CAMERON WITHDRAWS

Makes the Formal Announcement to the Audience at Boydton.

SOUTHALL AND YARRELL

Hold Joint Debate and Yarrell Leaves Impression He Will Continue in the Fight.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., June 20.—Ex-Governor Cameron has withdrawn from the race for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Fourth Congressional District. He made the announcement at Boydton to-day. He and Congressman Southall were scheduled for a joint debate at Boydton to-day, and Southall was to speak first.

Mr. Cameron asked permission to make an announcement and state that his health was not equal to the exertion necessary to make the canvass.

No Time for Discussion.

He declared that this was not a time for any dissent in the party, and he proposed to retire from the race. After a few minutes' discussion of the issues the party should support, he formally withdrew his candidacy.

It was said by members of his family that the ex-Governor was so exhausted on his return from his last speech that they knew he would be unable to continue through the canvass, and persuaded him to withdraw.

Judge Yarrell.

Judge Leonidas D. Yarrell was present and held a joint debate with Congressman Southall. He did not make a formal announcement of his candidacy, but left the impression that he was in the fight to stay.

Ex-Governor Cameron's withdrawal came as a great surprise, as none but his family knew that he was considering such a step. His retirement relieves a situation that has been depressed by members of the party, who regretted the attacks being made on each other by the two leading candidates.

The withdrawal of Mr. Cameron, it is believed, assures the renomination of Mr. Southall.
